Kids' Campfire Cookery

By Vesta, the Happy Camper

Since the time for camping & evening outdoor fires is quickly approaching, I thought I would share a few fun recipes that kids can help with as well as enjoy. These both require a low fire of coals!

The Old Favorite - S'mores

Ingredients: Large Marshmallows- one bag
Chocolate Bars- one per person, broken into squares
Toasting Stick for the Marshmallows
Box of Graham Crackers ( I like Honey Maid )
*Fire with low coals/little flame**

*Flames are what cause the marshmallows to burn! While this can be a really spectacular sight, it does give the S'mores a less than appetizing taste, so be careful!

Gently place marshmallows on the stick & toast over fire. When done to taste, break one cracker in two, place one or two squares of the chocolate on

The Fox's Den

This week I read a magazine that's been around since I was a kid, one that I haven't seen or even thought about in years: Ranger Rick. The April 2001 issue caught my eye because the cover features - you guessed it - two beautiful foxes! Reading it made me realize what a perfect choice this one is for Pagans, since it's all about natural wildlife & caring for it. Other magazines Pagan kids (& adults) might like are New Moon, Cicada, Cricket, Spider, Ladybug, Babybug, Click, Muse, & Stone Soup. If you want a good summer read & aren't in the mood for a book, pick up one of these & enjoy!
